You Hit Them, We Chase Them
Just a Little Rift
Rosenwald's $750,000
Lindbergh Sees Red Flags

By Arthur Brisbane
SNOWDEN, BRITAIN'S little fighting character of the exchequer, objects to the talk about "panic" in England. "England has not tapped her overseas wealth," says he.
That is slightly exaggerated, for England is, industrially, tapping the world's greatest supply of diamonds in South Africa.
And England's gold mines are yielding pure, beautiful gold in London at the rate of $15,000,000 a month and more.

The trouble is, and hence the British tears, that as fast as England produces the gold, France gets it. It reminds you of the modern golf practice field that rents you a painful of balls for 25 cents with the slogan: "You hit 'em, we chase 'em."
The English chase them, and the French get them.

A new rift appears in the Democratic lute for 1932. The very important support of Tammany Hall, in the convention, was supposed to be "all set" for Governor Roosevelt.

But the governor, ignoring Tammany's protests, calls a special session of the Legislature to increase the power of Judge Searby, investigating conditions in New York.

Some New York newspapers say Tammany considers this treason and will knife Roosevelt, after giving him a perfunctory vote.

That's one view. Another is that Roosevelt, having read political history, may prefer not to run under the label "Tammany" yet.

New York Democrats indignant that anybody should suggest investigating a city where magistrates line up with thugs and call them by their names, propose to get revenge by investigating Republicans upstate. A little investigating all around might give interesting results, possibly even in New Jersey.

A young senator of that State, supposed to have been shot by a New York young lady, whom "I had put on the New Jersey state payroll, said he also to have provided the interesting young person with free railroad passes as "an employee of the New Jersey Legislature."

The distressful shooting occurred, according to the young lady who cannot exonerate herself, happened, "early in the morning after we had drunk a glass deal of gin."

The police say the amount was four or five bottles, which shows that for New Jersey State senators, at least, prohibition is not absolutely prohibitive.

Mr. Frank L. Smith, elected in the United States Senate in Illinois, was thrown out of office because of the allegation that Mr. Insull, big power man, had helped to finance his Smith's campaign.

Now Mr. Smith says that Mr. Julius Rosenberg, of Illinois, offered him $25,000 to buy out his share in the company.

Smith would withdraw from the race, making sure the election of his opponent, the senatorial candidate favored by Mr. Rosenberg.

When this was written late yesterday Mr. Rosenberg had not replied to Mr. Smith.

Some newspapers say that Smith's story "broke" because of hostility between Insull and Rosenberg, but that seems incredible. Important capitalists are usually intelligent enough to love each other or at least act as though they did.

For Mr. Rosenberg, it may be mentioned, without waiting for him to speak, that there is a difference between trying to buy a seat in the Senate and trying to persuade one whom you consider an untrustworthy to withdraw from the race.

The Lindberghs on their interesting flight, first to Toledo and then on around the world, are seeking foreign parts with a vengeance.

An anti-reporter for the Japanese newspaper "Hochi" had them at Petrograd, where the central executive headquarters of Russian rule. The walls were decorated with flags with figures of Lenin and Stalin, the dictator and the dictator in power.

Lindbergh's impression of Russia would be interesting, but, young man, he confuses his opinions to his specialty, flying.

Five bank failures in Toledo and 13 building loans foreclosed.

Bandits Take Both Cars Besides $100 From Their Victims

Bandits kidnaped two men in their own automobiles early today, stole the cars, robbed the victims of $100 in cash, and trussed up one with his own belt and necktie.

A third holdup, in Roxbury, was foiled by a garage man.

Forced into his auto at his filling station at 9 Gallivan boulevard Mattapan, Arthur J. Berg of New Bedford was driven through Fairmount and Owen st., robbed of $75 and tossed from the machine with his hands and feet bound.

Berg was told as the handling driver away. Patrolman Timothy J. Sullivan found it abandoned near the Boston Sanitarium on River st.

Berg freed himself and went to Mortimer police station to describe the robbers.

A same trick was played on John T. Broganhan, 26, of 587 Main st., Watertown, in William St. armed men jumped into his car when he slowed down at an intersection. They took $20 and his car.

Russell Wright, confronted by two men, told them he was substituting for his regular driver. He was helped to finance his Smith's campaign.

Cambridge and Boston Firms Are Affected; Radicals Spread Literature

More than 2500 men and women clothing workers in 35 Boston and Cambridge shops walked out today in protest against alleged unfair conditions in several establishments.

Representatives of the strikers and employers stated that the stoppage of work at most of the shops, against which there is no complaint would probably be brief.

There are said to be approximately 800 employees in the allied unfair establishments, and representatives of both sides expressed the opinion that these men would be quickly adjusted.

According to Philip Delaney, general manager of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America in this district, who called the walkout, the shops complained of are paying lower wages and are not unionized.

A spokesman for one of these shops said that in his opinion the reason for the walkout order was to discipline the union members and effect the collection of back dues.

Only the men's garment industry is affected. From their benches workers went to union headquarters on Stuart st. and then to a mass meeting.

Police said that peaceful picketing would not be interfered with, but any attempts to molest or harass non-union members who entered or left the affected shops would result in prompt arrests.

Two Killed in Hit-Run Crash

Two automobiles, one of them stolen, crashed with terrific force early today in Weymouth st., South Braintree, claiming the lives of two youthful brothers and critically injuring a 15-year-old girl, their cousin.

James T. Brown, 18, and his brother Linwood, 18, of Hillside rd., East Braintree, crashed in the ruins of their automobile, died within an hour in Weymouth Hospital of fractured skulls and internal injuries.

Their cousin, Catherine Elliott, 16, of Norwiche, Ct., survived an emergency operation for the removal of a bone splinter from the brain, but surgeons held out little hope for her recovery.

The occupants of the stolen car said to be a man and a woman, fled the scene of the crash in another auto stolen at the scene.

Apparently they mingled in the crowd that gathered, then from under the very noses of the police stole the sedan of Austin Greider.

POPE AND MUSSOLINI SETTLE CHURCH DISPUTE

PEACE TERMS SECRETOR PRESENT

Agreement Ends Long Controversy Over Catholic Clubs Throughout Italy

Vatican City, Aug. 18 (INS).—The dispute between the Fascist government and the Vatican over the suppression of the Catholic youth clubs has been definitely settled, International News Service learned from a high Vatican source today.

Details of the accord were not made known, but it was understood that the agreement would be made public within a few days.

It was stated, however, that the quarrel had been ended to the entire satisfaction of both parties.

Definite information of the agreement confirmed the exclusive announcement that an accord was pending made a week ago by International News Service.

The Catholic youth clubs were represented at the negotiations by Premier Mussolini, who charged that they were being used as a cloak for interference with Italian politics. He alleged that they harbored political hostility to the Fascist regime.

Mussolini's charges against Fascist extremists who joined numerous clubs and attacked several other Catholic organizations. The Pope demanded reparation for damages and denied that the clubs were anything but religious in their nature.

Several notes were exchanged and the quarrel apparently reached an impasse when Mussolini declared that he definitely intended to keep the situation of Italian children under the direction of the state.

CLASSES MARK REVERE'S DEATH

Ex-Rep. Niland and Leahy, the Counsel for the Company, Stage Verbal Fireworks

A fire would be inconceivable, in his estimation, in the type of oil plant proposed for Revere, Charles H. Fisher of New York, consulting engineer on fire prevention, testified today at the hearing on the proposed Revere oil plant.

The hearing, resumed before State Fire Marshal John W. Reilly, developed principally into a verbal battle between former Rep. Thomas A. Niland, one of counsel for the opponents, and counsel for the Boston Portland Cement Co., seeking the "oil farm" license.

Niland accused counsel of signing a false statement and prompting his answers by these allegations.

The Niland accusations were directed against Francis Leahy, counsel for the Revere, who had asked Fisher if he knew there were laws in connection with oil tanks, empowering a state official to prohibit oil tanks in residential areas.

Finally, after Fisher answered that he knew there were such laws, Niland asked him if he knew that the laws were not intended to be a waste of time to go any further with it.

EX-GRAD STAYED IN RUM 'SHAKEDOWN'

Arrest Bares a Plot of Fake Liquor Agents to Prey on R. I. Victims

Providence, R. I., Aug. 18 (AP).—Federal authorities today began an investigation of what may prove a widespread "shakedown" racket in Rhode Island.

The investigation was prompted by a warrant issued against John P. McDonough of Providence, former star football player, for having impersonated an internal revenue officer fraudulently to obtain $2000 in cash from Joseph Hayes, owner of the Lippitt Mill, West Warwick.

Men believed to have operated with McDonough, who was to be arraigned this afternoon, were arrested today.

McDonough, crack center for Syracuse University football team in 1913 and star player on the Steam City football team, was arrested in 1916 and 1917, is charged with having obtained $2,000 from Hayes by telling him the mill owner that he owed the government $2,000 in taxes.

McDonough himself on income tax charges in 1921, was released with a large still in the mill basement in 1922.

The still was located in a part of the mill leased by Hayes to another man who said they wanted to start a soap manufacturing business.

McDonough was arrested yesterday when he was called to the office to an effort to collect a sum of money.

Old Fogies Gain Strong Defender

London, Aug. 18 (INS).—At last the old fogies have found a champion.

In the opinion of St. John Ervine, British author and critic, the old fogies are the rail of the earth—and in human beings.

Addressing next to him a 47-year-old author delivered a shaming attack on those who praise youth.

"There is no greater man than to talk about the youth," St. John Ervine said, "and the youth is the rail of the earth—and in human beings."

"It is not until middle-age that the youth is the rail of the earth—and in human beings."

"There are many young people today who believe that the world began in 1918."

City police and detectives patrolled the banking district. And there was talk of calling out the Ohio National Guard, although bank guards, doubtless out of their money, are usually not violent.

Our troubles in this country include too many bank failures and too few of those responsible sent to jail.

HOME BOMBED, 6
ESCAPE BLAST

Toledo, O., Aug. 18 (AP)—Lives of six persons were endangered today when a bomb, described by police as of crude manufacture, exploded on the front porch of the home of Homer D. Fry, secretary of the Better Business Bureau. The explosion shattered the windows of the house but did no other damage. No one was injured. Fry's two daughters, Mary, 19, and Julia Belle, 16, were asleep in a downstairs bedroom only about five feet from where the bomb exploded. Fry and his wife were sleeping in another room.

British Town Prays for Deliverance in
Plague of Snakes

A plague of snakes, many of them poisonous, has disrupted the peaceful life of this little fishing village. Men of the village, accustomed to a rigorous and dangerous life on the sea, have been confounded by the visitation of reptiles, which is without precedent here and is unexplained. Many of them, devout churchmen and remembering the happy delivery of Ireland by St. Patrick in similar circumstances, have asked the community to pay special attention to the plague in their prayers.

Brookline Woman Charges She Found Husband in Apartment With Hotel Hostess

Their romances—scarred and shopworn—were raled into Probate Court in Dedham today by six disillusioned wives, one of whom went to the altar nearly 40 years ago.

She is Mrs. Mabel J. Dolby of Vrentana, and in her suit she charges desertion and non-support against George E. Dolby of Nantuxet. They were married in Nantuxet, Vireland River, Nov. 3, 1892.

ACCUSES HOSTESS

Discovery of her wealthy husband in the arm of a hotel hostess in the Back Bay is the charge in a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Hope Louise Adams, proprietor of an exclusive sanatorium in Brookline, against Leon N. P. Adams, wealthy leather man living in Cambridge. Mrs. Adams charges that, accompanied by police from the Rankin station, she found her husband and him Dorothy Robinson, 25, in a tenement at apartment on June 2, 1930. In Roxbury court, the leather man and the hotel hostess were found guilty of serious charges and were placed on probation.

The wife declared then that she would seek a divorce. She and Adams were married March 5, 1910, in Providence, and they have a son, Martin K. Adams, 20, a Dartmouth sophomore, whose custody she asks in the libel charging infidelity.

CHARGES DESERTION

After 23 years of married life, Mrs. Isabel M. Moore of Brookline seeks a divorce from Charles F. Moore of Buffalo, N. Y., on the grounds of desertion and non-support. They were married May 6, 1908, in Boston, and she seeks custody of a son, Francis P. Moore, 15.

WED ONLY A YEAR

In contrast, Mrs. Ann P. Rutledge of Brookline has been married to Simon Rodolphe of Boston only since April 20, 1930, but she wishes a divorce on the grounds of desertion and abuse of treatment and non-support. She also wishes alimony and permission to resume her maiden name of Lander.

CRUEL, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Margaret C. Mackey of Washington, D. C., married in Washington on June 6, 1928, seeks a divorce from William J. Mackey of Brookline for alleged cruel and abusive treatment. Alimony and the custody of a daughter, Margaret, are asked.

SEKS CUSTODY

The sixth divorce action was filed by Mrs. Ann G. Norris of Quincy against Edward J. Norris of Norwell, charging cruel and abusive treatment and asking custody of two daughters, Barbara, 10, and Jane A., 7. The couple were married Nov. 26, 1920.

FIELD MASS AT
K. OF C. SESSION

French Lick, Ind., Aug. 18 (AP)—Knights of Columbus gathered today from every state, territory and dependency of the United States, from Canada and Mexico, to kneel before a hillside altar, where the celebration of a solemn pontifical field mass inaugurated the 46th annual convention of the order's supreme council.

It was, perhaps, the largest outdoor gathering of Roman Catholics since the Eucharistic Congress. The celebrant of the mass was the Rt. Rev. John A. Neenan, bishop of Louisville. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Chastant, bishop of Indianapolis, presided at the altar. Delegates have been assembling here for two days. The first formal session was arranged to follow tonight.

Marlin J. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme knight, presented a report of the order's activities during the past year at the opening session.

BOSTON GRL
SWIMS STRAITS

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 18—Anita Grew, 25-year-old Boston girl, daughter of United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, today swam the 19 miles of the Bosphorus Straits in the Black Sea to the Sea of Marmara, in five hours.

She had been training for the feat since she tried it and failed because of adverse winds and choppy seas last year. Her father and two friends followed her in a small boat, playing music on a phonograph and feeding her hot chocolate from time to time.

STORK MAY KID
SHOPLIFTER

While police continue their investigation of her shoplifting activities and the court ponder on what to do with her, Mrs. Anna Barton, 25, of New Bedford, may have her freedom without bail, because she is to become a mother. Her husband, William Barton, appealed in her behalf in municipal court today, following her arrest on a charge of stealing six dresses from a Boston department store and her confession, which led to the seizure of 50 stolen dresses in New Bedford.

Tries Suicide

Inez Norton, questioned in the Arnold Rothstein murder in New York, to whom Rothstein willed a share of his fortune, was recovering in a Los Angeles hospital from the effects of poison, self-administered, police said, because she was "penitent." She had a costly automobile there, however. (I. N. R. photo.)

PAID RATED FOR GERMANY

Basel, Switzerland, Aug. 18 (AP)—Renewal of $125,000,000 in short-term credits to bolster Germany's financial structure is favored by the international bankers' committee, headed by Albert H. Wiggin, of New York. A report to this effect has been drawn up for signature.

ROTHSTEIN GIRL
TAKES POISON

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18 (INS)—Why blonde Inez Norton, who was the reputed sweetheart of Arnold Rothstein, slain New York gambler, took poison in a suicide attempt, was a mystery Los Angeles police today were endeavoring to solve.

She told police she was unemployed and "broke," but officers recalled she was reported to have received $75,000 from Rothstein and his estate.

Her statement and the expensive automobile in which she took the poison would indicate she had ample funds.

After swallowing poison, Miss Norton evidently changed her mind about wanting to die and drove to a police hospital for emergency treatment.

Inside the hospital Miss Norton seized a bottle of liquid from attendants and attempted to drink it, but they prevented the attempt. Miss Norton was said to have been unsuccessful in her quest for a Hollywood film career.

Declares He Always Claimed He Was "Broke"; Wants to Be "Easy" With Him

Los Angeles, Aug. 18 (AP)—A Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, and his actress wife, Estelle Taylor, have resorted to the divorce courts to settle their differences after weeks of sparring by their legal representatives over a property settlement.

Dempsey filed suit in Reno, Nev., charging marital cruelty. Soon after Miss Taylor heard of his action, she instructed her attorneys to file for a divorce, also charging cruelty.

With Nevada divorce laws not requiring details of charges on which divorces are sought, particularly Dempsey's petition were not available. In Miss Taylor's complaint, drawn up last night and signed by her, she made general charges of cruelty, and referred to the expensive automobile which she recently said was taken from her chauffeur by Joe Dempsey, brother of Jack, who gave her the car as a present.

The complaint will charge that Dempsey "for a long time prior to the date of separation has been guilty of extreme cruelty in his conduct toward the plaintiff in that he has wrongfully inflicted upon plaintiff grievous mental pain and suffering without justification or excuse."

Miss Taylor and Dempsey were married at San Diego Feb. 7, 1925. The date of separation was given as March 11, 1931.

DIDN'T ASK MURDER

"It was such a little thing that I insisted on," she said. "A property agreement had been reached, and it suited Jack. My great devotion to him was what caused me to ask so little. He is always saying he is broke, and I wanted to be as easy as possible on him. I asked only $5,000, and a penny more. Out of that amount, I hope to take care of a mortgage on my home, to complete payments on my automobile and to pay attorney fees. Jack agreed to that, but when my attorney, Joseph Scott, learned that Jack guaranteed his promise to pay the monthly installments by putting up its equivalent in collateral, a trust deed in his Barbara corporation, Jack was up and all our negotiations ended. 'Now I can only repeat that as long as there is going to be a divorce in this family, I am going to be the one to get it.'"

LUCKY BABY! WHO'S DRIVER?

Little Edward Travers, nine months old, of 291 Milton st., East Dedham, was out with his father and mother, who were pushing him in his carriage, when a hit-and-run driver arrived on the scene. The driver came up over the sidewalk, which had no curb stone, struck the father and knocked the carriage over, throwing Edward to the street. He was injured. His father was scratched from his fall. Police are looking for the driver. (Staff photo.)

TEXAS GUINAN'S INN BOMBED

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Woodman Inn, a Bronx roadside, featuring Texas Guinan and her company of girls, was bombed early today, but a few hours after the place had closed for the night. Police reported that the explosive, evidently thrown from a speeding automobile on or near the Williamsbridge road shattered several windows in the place, but otherwise did no damage.

$700 STOLEN IN SAFE BREAKS

Haverhill, Aug. 18—Safe-breakers cracked two safes early today in the offices of the Atherton-Peoples Furniture Co., 5 Bridge st., and robbed one of the two safes of nearly $700. From the second safe they obtained nothing, and a third safe in the office resisted all efforts to open it.

The safe-breakers entered the store by forcing a basement window, and then went upstairs to the offices on the first floor rear. Combinations of two of the three safes were knocked off. Police inspectors Oviatt J. LaRue and Calvin Long were assigned to the investigation and are now. Inspector Michael Byron of Lawrence, Mass., is expert.

HOOVER ALERT TO DRIVES BY DEMOCRATS

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Washington's usual August political quiet has given way to turmoil that has caught the attention of national leaders.

Gov. Roosevelt of New York is commanding the lightning due to his challenges to the Tammany machine within his own party in New York city and to President Hoover on the St. Lawrence waterway and power issue.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi has been named as a Democratic running-mate to him in the pre-convention election, comes forth with a Republican opponent—Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

RETORT TO ROOSEVELT

Alive to the sudden Democratic offensive, President Hoover hastened back to the White House to reply to the thrust.

As to Roosevelt's letter to him on the St. Lawrence waterway and power question, Mr. Hoover turned the reply over to Acting Secretary of State Clegg. Mr. Clegg replied that "no secret negotiations" with Canada relating to the project were in progress, but Governor Roosevelt's letter was not made public here.

PLANS FOR JOBLESS

Meanwhile, the President is going ahead in his own way on his formation of a program for the unemployed.

Louis Howe, executive chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called for details of this program. While his demand was quickly noted at the White House, it appeared today the President was going to ignore it and make his proposal in his own time.

A. F. L. FAVORS WORLD COURT

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP)—Fratricide of the proposed embodying the Ruff formula for American entry into the World Court has been made in the indelible program of the American Federation of Labor.

Announcement of decision to support approval of the World Court proposals by the Senate was made by the executive council of the Federation in a statement declaring:

"As long as the interests of the United States are adequately safeguarded and guarantees are given that there will be no interference in purely domestic questions, the American Federation believes the United States should take its place with other nations in advancing the cause of world peace through settlement of questions which require judicial examination and action."

It will be the purpose and policy of the American Federation of Labor to support the proposal submitted by the President which provides for the entry of the United States into World Court membership.

Husband Shoots His Wife; Ends His Life

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—George M. Fusco, 37, of Brooklyn, New York, a government printing office employee, early today shot and badly injured his estranged wife, Mrs. Esther Fusco, then committed suicide by taking poison.

She and Fusco were married in May this year and her suit for a divorce was scheduled to come up in court today.

Church Leader Gets Jail as Swindler

Los Angeles, Aug. 18 (AP)—Frederick Grant White, Venice, Cal., church worker, was sentenced today to prison for term from 12 to 15 years after conviction of 12 fraud charges against women members of his congregation. He was specifically accused of defrauding his victims of $2,000.

Once again the ancient curse has visited Battle Abbey, Sussex, England, erected by William the Conqueror after his victory over King Harold. Read about this in the American Weekly in the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

BETTY COED TO BE CALLED ELIZABETH

Fall Clothes to Have a Real Grown-up Air

By JANE KADS

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Betty Coed will have to be called Elizabeth this year.

Fall clothes have a grown-up air and the wester of the new ransable fashions will be called on to affect the police, the country and the sophistication of an Empress Eugenie or a Catherine de Medici.

Already the trunks are being pulled out and the daughter of the house is talking clothes to the family provider.

Shortly "rushing parties" will have the semblance of court salons, with plumes, lace and subtle high spots of style. Black satin in sleek lines, with buckled pumps, short gloves, pouch hand and velvet or felt hats bedecked with plumes, bows or coiffure will be the prevailing mode for afternoon social functions.

STRIPES AND PLAIDS

Sunday night supper gowns will be of velvet in black or royal and sapphire blue trimmed with fur, lace or metallic cloth.

Nobby knit sweats, sheer woolsens and jersey in solid, high, clear colors will be popular for campus and daytime wear. Two-tone stripes and plaids are favored, too.

These will be fashioned in two or three-piece suits or in one-piece dresses to be worn with short jackets of suede, or the more durable fur.

Sport coats for Saturday luncheon or football games are of luxuriantly soft, loose woven weaves and generally with deep collars of fox or wide collar of lamb or caracul.

Fur coats for informal wear are of leopard, kid, racoon or muskrat.

VAMPIRE EVENING GARE

The college girl will insist on sophisticated evening clothes rather than the ingenuis modes of three or four years ago. She will wear satins or velvets designed to sweep her girlish figure in a campy manner. They must be long, low of décolletage, and sleeveless.

Jewelry for the younger girl is simpler this year, but richer. For daytime wear, manish, set a lone flight to Tokyo.

brocade one and a half or two inches wide, huge carved stone rings, and metal chain necklaces are being shown.

Pajamas are most important. They have an especial place at the dormitory "gossip feast," so dear to the college girls' heart. New pajamas are one-piece affairs with metal rope belts and are of printed velvet or rich clinging satin.

PANGBORN WILL CROSS PACIFIC

Tokio, Aug. 18 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., today paid fines of $255 levied against each of them by the Superior Court here for taking photographs while flying over fortified Japanese areas.

Considering the incident closed, the American Embassy, in behalf of the fines, applied to the Japanese aviation bureau for a permit enabling them to fly to Samurahi Beach, Northern Honshu Island, where they plan to start a non-stop flight across the Pacific to Seattle.

A decision on the request will be made at a conference of home, foreign and communications officials, probably in a few days.

LIES FOR CINEMA'S SAKE

Californians Only Club Plan Band

I honestly believe that nowhere else is there an organization that works in such harmony as does this. When we were in the work we said to one another:—What can we do that will be different? Paul Whelan has presented all the beauty that is possible in a band presentation. Fred Waring has offered the stunt of calling girls from the audience and presenting them. It is a Valley high school. Horace Heidt has a phony idea and his screaming. Other bands have done these things, but none has gone into something possible. What shall we do? Someone suggested:—Why not give them a band which never stops playing, which goes on and on, opens up with a bang and follows that with a huge roar? And that was what we did.

BRITISH FAVOR GANDHI OFFER TO DEBATE

Bombay, India, Aug. 18 (AP).—Viceroy Willingdon and Sir Ernest Houston, Governor of Bombay, were in communication today in regard to Mahatma Gandhi's latest offer to go to London "provided the government holds an impartial inquiry into alleged breaches in the Delhi trials."

It was learned the government is disposed to sanction such an inquiry, provided the Nationalist leader does not insist every minor dispute arising out of the trial shall be subject to such investigations in the future.

Gandhi today, in Ahmedabad, characterized as "a malicious, deliberate lie" a dispatch printed abroad that the Nationalist Congress was preparing for war and that the peasants had been urged not to pay the government any more taxes than they could afford.

"On the contrary," said Gandhi, "instructions have been sent all over India that the Delhi pact must be scrupulously observed and nobody must disobey any government order without permission of the Congress."

LINER'S MAIL LOOTED AGAIN

New York, Aug. 18.—Another mysterious ocean mail robbery occurred today with the arrival of the United States liner Leviathan.

A pouch of English registered parcels of mail from Nassau, Bahamas, carried on its last eastward trip had been cut open.

The theft was linked with a similar robbery a few weeks ago when $25,000 worth of currency bound from Nassau to the New York branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, disappeared from a mail pouch on the Cunarder Mauritanian.

Never Refuse an Offer

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Committees have figured out reason for everything except committees.

Now that the Farm Board has advocated arson, we can expect the other committees to advocate mayhem and encourage other forms of industrial sabotage.

A bumper crop of cotton used to be the signal for great rejoicing in the South. But now it means shaking hands with the well known white elephant.

Germany made a bid for the surplus cotton and was spurned. Next, but that's nothing new, Henry Ford once made an offer for Muscle Shoals and the only thing that changed hands in that deal was a borrowed lead pencil.

What we need is the return of that old community spirit. Let the Northerners buy a bale of cotton. The South can retaliate by purchasing our apples and both can help out the West by buying corn and grasshoppers.

If politicians can go in for leg-levelling, the colonists indulge in mutual back-scratching; why can't the rest of us do each other's laundry?

Oklahoma and Texas are solving the oil slump by calling out the militia. Montana real estate was helped by the navy. Which leaves the cotton farmers their choice of the slumps or the marines.

That German bid for cotton was the best we had because it was the only one. We would have lost money on it. But so would the Germans.

TEXAS TROOPS GIVE OIL MEN JAIL WARNING

Kilgore, Tex., Aug. 18 (AP).—Mounted cavalrymen of the Texas National Guard rode through the great East Texas oil field today carrying to operators the military ultimatum, "Shut down or go to jail."

The order was issued by Gen. Jacob F. Wellers, commander of the 96th Brigade, who took military control of four East Texas counties yesterday under a martial law proclamation of Governor Ross S. Sterling.

The Governor acted to stop production until the state's new conservation laws can be put into action, in a field which oilmen say has demoralized the industry through its overproduction.

Gov. Sterling's action followed that of Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma two weeks ago in shutting down Oklahoma's wells by martial law. The Kansas public service commission also has acted to isolate the petroleum industry by threatening to shut down wells.

Leaders of the industry praised Gov. Sterling's action and said that together with Murray's shutdown, it should bring about an increase in the price of crude oil. The general top price now is 32 cents a barrel.

Bessborough's Baby to Bear King's Name

CENSUS SHOWS WOMEN GAINING FAST IN U. S.

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—A female population increasing more rapidly than the male was revealed today by the census bureau.

Whereas in 1920 there were 104 men and boys to each 100 women and girls, that sex ratio now stands at 102.5.

Even in virile Nevada, which had a rugged ratio of 118.4 men to each 100 women 10 years ago, the males now outnumber by only 103.3 to 100.

No other state even approximated the Nevada preponderance, though Wyoming has a ratio of 123.8 and Montana one of 120.

WOMEN IN LEAD
The District of Columbia, at the other end of the scale, had but 90.9 men to each 100 women. Massachusetts had 93.1, Rhode Island 93.2. Women outnumbered men in 11 of against seven states, counting the District of Columbia, in the last census.

New Hampshire, Connecticut, Tennessee and Louisiana were added to a list which already included Massachusetts, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

However, there were 1,490,114 more males than females in the 12,775,046 population of the entire United States.

FOREIGN CENSUS
The negro population comprised 8,542,610 males and 8,038,912 females, as compared with 89.2 in 1920.

Chinese, Japanese and Mexican males far outnumbered females. The Chinese population was 22,388 males to 22,920 females, a 98.6 ratio. The Japanese ratio was 276.5, the Mexican 165.8.

TRY DESERTER AS SLAYER
Hyde Park, Vt., Aug. 18 (AP)—Lansette County's first murder trial in more than a decade went into its second day today with defense and prosecution unable to agree on a panel.

Louis Charlin, 20, alleged army deserter from Fort Ethan Allen, was charged with slaying Clayton B. Rugg, Cambridge garage dealer, on July 21.

A large number of residents came down from the surrounding hills to witness the opening session. Charlin, whose home is in Hartford, Ct., rode on automobile in Burlington and drove to Saugus, N.H., where the car became disabled.

Rugg went to Charlin's residence and later drove with him to the Rugg garage, where he asked for payment.

Police said an argument ensued and Charlin shot Rugg.

Hampton Rejects State Beach Offer
Hampton, N. H., Aug. 18 (AP)—By a majority vote of 75 citizens a special meeting in the Town Hall, rejected the state's offer of $25,000 for the title of the shore land from Place Cove at North Beach to Haverhill st., at Hampton Beach.

Nearly 200 citizens attended the meeting. The state sought the shoreland in connection with a breakwater project.

Here's Birdie, but Not the Right Kind
Wheeler, W. Va., Aug. 18 (AP)—Here's a story about a birdie that turned a drive.

Tossing off the No. 1 hole at the municipal golf course for Charles K. Welch, deputy United States marshal, sent the ball into the air just as a bird flew by. The ball hit the bird and they came to earth together. The bird was killed.

Aboard Submarine Nautilus, Spitzbergen, Aug. 18—Lying at anchor in Lofoten at Lofoten City, Advent, Dr. Spitzbergen, the Nautilus was discovered by radio recently for her cruise of scientific exploration in Arctic waters.

Since arriving here Saturday night we have been busy refueling and repairing our engines.

Our batteries are all charged, a job that has taken all day and night. Engineer Sharp has been working almost continually since our arrival and things are now in great shape.

We hope to leave here today. Only a few trials remain to determine definitely our further plans.

Spitzmeister, Clark, who became slightly ill on the voyage from Tromsø to this outpost within the Arctic Circle, is living ashore, but we expect he will recuperate in time to accompany us northward.

All our crew have been enjoying the open handed hospitality of the poor manager of the Storönska Company. His and his men have been to every assistance in refueling.

Boys Suspected in Lynn Station Break

Thieves, believed by police to be boys, broke into East Lynn station of the Boston & Maine Railroad early today and rifled the cash drawer of 20 pennies. They entered through a pass door and in the ticket office scattered tickets on the floor. The police found a boy's sneaker on the floor was the only clue.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally present in every tobacco leaf

(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

DAILY TRUE STORY PRIDE HAS A FALL

"Stop Him!" Cried Evelyn

IT WAS TOO BAD that Evelyn could not forget that one of her ancestors was said to have come over on the Mayflower. Too bad that Evelyn was such a professional aristocrat—for otherwise she was a charming girl, most satisfactory to the eye.

And now, Evelyn had run away from a seashore resort to the ornate North Woods camp of her banker father, John Adams Van Pruyn. It was five weeks since she had escaped from Harry Fenton—a very estimable young man, but, as Evelyn had told him, one with "no family background, whom she could not possibly marry."

As she sat on the wide porch of the Van Pruyn log palace, Evelyn recalled that final scene with Harry.

"I know I haven't anything to brag about in the way of 'ancestry'," he had told her, "but we've made progress, as a family, and I love you, Evelyn."

She had said that she did not love him, and that she would not marry him. He had said that he would not marry her, and that he would not love her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her.

He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her.

He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her. He had said that he would not love her, and that he would not marry her.

Miss Alice Murphy Is Surprise Witness: Widow Reveals an Earlier Quarrel Men Had

A surprise witness, a girl who said she saw the shooting, testified today in Newton Court at a hearing which preceded the holding of Wilfred F. Dart of Newton for the Grand Jury in the slaying of Charles J. Bernard of Jamaica Plain.

Miss Alice Murphy, 21, of 213 Forest St., Newton, sister of Dart, testified that she saw the shooting on June 13. She said she was going to the police department and saw a man shoot a shot at the driver and then walk away.

Because of the darkness, Miss Murphy testified, she could not identify the murderer.

Mrs. Lucy Bernard of 9 Pinecroft St., Jamaica Plain, widow of the slain man, admitted under cross-examination that when her husband left home after supper on Saturday, June 13, he said he was going to the police department and had left her.

Bernard was shot in Gardner at Newton Court on June 13, and until today the existence of an eye witness was not known, except to police.

After the shooting, Bernard drove up to a traffic officer at Newton Court, declared he had been shot, "because of the boy's racket," and collapsed. He died at Newton Hospital from a bullet in the abdomen.

The explosion in an extracting machine in the laundry at City Hospital injured three men, imperiled the lives of 20 others, and it was feared might have caused panic among the hundreds of patients there. However, this fear was groundless, for there was no excitement among the sick. Photo shows the huge machine ranted apart by the force of the explosion, with unfortunates standing by. (Staff Photo.)

PLANS SET FOR LABOR DAY

Complete arrangements for the Labor Day celebration by the Boston Central Labor Union were announced last night following a meeting of the committee at the Washington St. The usual program on Boston Common will be broadcast and the afternoon will be passed at Ocean Gardens, South Beach, where a dinner will be served.

In addition to the dinner, the Governor, Mayor Curley, and the Mayor's Committee on the Education of Teachers, James T. Moroney, president of the No-Schools League, and the State Federation of Labor, will be present.

2 BOYS ON LOST SLOOP SAIL IN Here's a Hope Everything Goes Right

Two Coleraine youths, members of prominent families, sailed into port at Coleraine at midnight from the coast line between Lough Linnagh and Lough Swilly, reported them missing.

The coast guard continued all night, although the two youths, John Mulcahy, 21, of Newton, and Robert Mulcahy, 20, of Coleraine, were reported missing at midnight.

The youths bought the sloop, in Marblehead, yesterday and started across a treacherous stretch of sea between Marblehead and Coleraine. They were beckoned off Marblehead, and Carl Wadinger, Robert's father, reported them missing.

2 BEERS, A FIST; THE FINE'S $15

A combination of two bottles of beer and a swinging fist cost John P. Kilborn of West St., Somerville, $15 in Municipal Court today on charges of assault and battery. Kilborn, according to the testimony, helped a friend move some furniture into the South End yesterday, and as rewarded with two bottles of home brew. After drinking the beer, Kilborn went for a stroll in Blackstone St. where Burt Suggs of Newbury, S. C., was also strolling. A discussion arose and when Suggs invited to ask a question he was elbowed on the eye. Judge Carr today filed the assault charge when Kilborn paid Suggs the $15.

M'DAVITT MADE VICE-PRESIDENT OF TELEPHONE

Elected at Meeting of Board of Directors of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Clarence G. McDavitt today was elected by the board of directors a vice-president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co.

He was born in San Francisco, Cal., in 1877. He was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1900. As an undergraduate he was the first Dartmouth sophomore to do the 100 in 10 flat. This Dartmouth record made in 1900 still stands. He has since served as president of the Dartmouth Athletic Council, chairman of the Alumni Fund, president of the Alumni Council and president of the General Alumni Association.

Since 1911 under various titles McDavitt has been connected with the general problem of the telephone company's public relations. In 1928 he was assigned the responsibility of the company's personnel work. He has served the Boston Chamber of Commerce as a worker in various capacities and was vice-president of the Chamber in 1925 and 1926.

With Mrs. McDavitt, he makes his home in Newtonville. Three children, who live in Winchester, and one grandson.

Lieut. O'Neil Can Stay Another Year

Lieut. Philip E. O'Neil of the West Roxbury police station, despite the fact that his retirement papers were signed last week by Mayor Curley, will continue to serve actively in the department for another year. The Civil Service Commission today accepted an official record from O'Neil to the effect that he was born on July 29, 1887. Previously the commission had notified the police department of the pending retirement of O'Neil in June of this year.

OILS DO BEST
DEALINGS

New York, Aug. 18.—Persistent strength of oil stocks was the bright spot in today's Wall st. market.

A brisk general upturn of the forenoon was lost when motors and rails weakened, but oils perked up again in the last hour.

Gains of a point or two were recorded in Standards of N. J. and California, Seashore Oil, Sinclair and Texas Corp.

CLOSING IS MIXED
The close was irregular, ho-with losses of 1 to 2 points in General Motors, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Eastman, Dupont, American Water Works, and others. U. S. Steel was off fractionally.

The day's turnover was well over a million and a half shares. Under leadership of the oil shares, the market rebounded rapidly from yesterday's tumble.

Large blocks of General Motors were offered after the replaced by net losses of a point or more. Rails again turned conspicuously heavy.

The selling in General company more than earned the $1.50 a share dividend requirement in the first half of the year, and its midyear balance sheet showed cash and equivalent of $245,000,000.

Various explanations were offered in brokerage circles. Considerable selling was said to come from out-of-town sources, including Detroit. While some observers thought the selling represented special liquidation rather than any development in the industry, others suggested that second half earnings would be seasonably below those of the first half, and that the full annual dividend requirement of $3 a share might not be covered.

Chrysler in which a strong bull pool has been active of late, basing activity on the prospects of its new low-priced model, was also sold in some volume and sagged moderately.

At times pool activity in Chrysler has been accompanied by selling of General Motors, suggesting that traders going long on Chrysler were going short on General Motors.

Industrial and trade news was gain meagre, and scarcely of a character to influence the market. The July figures on foreign trade merely reflected the low sta eady well known. March

Exports of $183,000,000 set a new record for the post-war period, off $4,000,000 from June, while imports of $175,000,000 were off $1,000,000 from June.

Early estimates of last week's crude oil production indicated a reduction of more than 60,000 barrels in daily average output, reflecting the Oklahoma shutdowns. This

It is reported in the trade that several refineries are already un-ing shot of crude, and that for substantial advances in prices are, in almost immediate prospect, although the $1-a-barrel objective may not be immediately realized.

By TED COOK

Movie producers have proudly announced their decision to turn out nothing but wholesome entertainment this season.

The idea has its points—wholesome entertainment is about the only kind we haven't had a chance to get tired of.

(We've never gone back after enough.)

HOTSY TOTS!
(Sings, "Hot Tots")

Play croquet! Eat ice cream and cake! River Runnel Home Lawn, Friday 8 p. m. Epworth Leagues.

Says Governor, the kitchen cup, "If things continue like this for a few years longer, politicians will be relieved of one responsibility—they won't have to worry about the taxpayer's dollar any more."

OMIGOSH!
(Cries, "Omigosh!")

SPANISH SUB 2K writer, refined, subtle, desires to know American business person, interested in beautiful things. Companion, D. Box 52, Times.

And the trouble with a lot of us is that we can never get any spare time from our leisure.

A multi-millionaire who just died and left $400,000 wasn't listed in the phone books, newspaper files or in the Social Register. Which just about explains the theory that all rich people are stupid.

Greater Boston Council Communities Need to Unite

Boston's population has shown an interesting migration, from east to west, in the ten years since the last census. Dorchester gained 19.9 per cent, Brighton 53.8 per cent, Hyde Park 32.6 per cent. West Roxbury led the roll with a population gain of 25,260, or 40.1 per cent.

The largest loss came to the city proper, 16.2 per cent. People of today no longer live in their workshops, like the ancient shoemaker. They want comfort, respite from noise, and gardens in which to bring up their children.

The extraordinary growth of the suburbs, Belmont and Arlington, demonstrates that. Official Washington says we are a metropolitan area in excess of 2,000,000 people, fourth largest in the United States.

People may shift from one section of a city to another, or to the suburbs, but their lifework and commercial interests are here.

In order to consolidate and promote their mutual welfare, to develop their common interests and to take advantage of the prestige of their civic size, we ought to have a united governing council, composed of representatives of all communities.

No city or town needs to be shorn of its local identity, or to be deprived of its local rights. But in unity there is strength and the sooner we realize it the more fortunate we will be.

Webster's Anniversary

Fryeburg Academy is celebrating the 150th birthday anniversary of Daniel Webster, who was its second principal. "The necessity of the case required that I should go somewhere and earn a little money," he wrote in 1802. "I was written to, to go to Fryeburg, Me., to keep school. I accepted the offer, traversed the country on horseback, and commenced my labor."

His salary was $550 a year. He supplemented his income by copying deeds for his landlord, who was also the Register of Deeds. "On a long winter's evening, I could copy two deeds, and that was half a dollar."

"I took my quarter's salary, mounted a horse and went straight over the hills to Hanover, and had the pleasure of putting these first earnings of my life into my brother's hands for his college expenses."

What a splendid story of simple industry and self-sacrifice and charity. Webster became one of the great statesmen of all history. American boys of today can find it to their advantage to emulate him. No example. Possibly not so attractive as hopping into a "speed-wagon" for a flit party at a roadhouse. But it will get them farther in the end.

London Low in Auto Deaths

In Massachusetts, automobile fatalities increased. In London, both accidents and fatalities have achieved a remarkable and fortunate reduction. The English seem to know how to force respect for law into their people.

Also, they place upon the pedestrian some responsibility for his own safety. A large proportion of accidents, for which we blame the autoist alone, was found to have resulted there from the heedlessness of the walker.

Crossing the street without due care, passing between or behind vehicles and "hesitating or faltering," were some of the faults ascribed to the pedestrian in accidents of which the drivers were absolved.

We in Massachusetts ought not to be afraid to take a good leaf from the book of experience of any other country or city, especially where the saving of human life is the reward.

Does College Life Breed Stupidity?

DOES COLLEGE LIFE breed stupidity?

Does it train young men and women to be amateurs—playboys and girls—Chronic Campus Cutups?

Does it create a false ideal and attitude? Waste the four most plastic years of life?

Plenty of peered parents think it does. Surveying the results of the campus incubator, and Philip Wylie confirms their hunch in July "College Humor."

According to Wylie, the average undergraduate leads the highly specialized and segregated life of a campus chimp.

For four years he lives entirely apart from the normal human run. He wears campus clothes, absorbs campus ideas, accepts campus standards, concentrates all his force and enthusiasm on campus career.

He is taught by professors as far removed from real life and reality as he is. . . given instruction which has no possible, practical relation to his own needs.

(Philip Wylie doesn't say all this, of course, but he gave the rest of us a grand opening.)

Take, for example, the subject of Journalism. If anyone has ever seen a real, honest-to-goodness Journalism produced by any university, I wish he'd wrap it up in cotton and send it to me by air mail. Or maybe to Ripley. Journalists are who have become journalists in spite of college courses, after being kicked around in real newspapers for five or six years.

Theory-teaching—he has it by the ton. English? The whole dictionary. But of life as it is and language as it's really a notion, and how does he? Nine times out of ten the man who is instructing him is there because he couldn't turn the trick elsewhere. That's why he's teaching Journalism at $2000 instead of writing it at $12,000.

All this might not be so bad for the youngster if he realized that he's just playing with blocks. But he doesn't. Nor do his professors. The campus world is accepted as the Whole Show.

The consequence is that, after four years, the youngster bursts upon the world with all the confidence of a male tuft—and the actual poise and ability of a baby bunny. Whereupon it is up to a long-suffering world to swat it out of him, before he can be a mite of good to himself or anyone else.

Fortunately, we rarely do a complete job of swatting. As a result, our social scene is simply littered with a lot of outside Collegiates and Collegiennes who still think they're getting ready for the Junior Prom.

All of which adds up to what? I don't know. Do you?

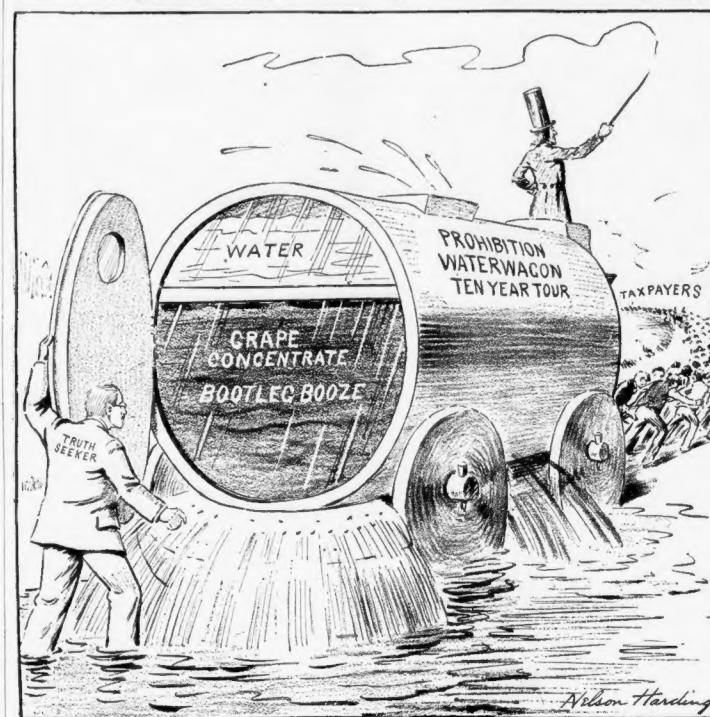

Should we force both students and professors to get out and breathe the regular windmills on alternate years?

Should we periodically turn on the Campus a lot of low-browed, horny-handed mechanics, oil miners, smart rhyters and strutsleeve lawes bound with culture and credit—raise Cain with Culture and credit—take the rah-rah?

Or should we just hear up as best we can and thank God it isn't worse? Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

MAHATMA GANDHI refuses to get all her up over the London Conference and won't go. He may not have a shirt, but if he did he would know how to keep it on.

IF MICHIGAN has any of her brand of justice for the export trade she ought to be able to find a good market for it just now in New York and Chicago.

MAYOR JIMMY WALKER witnesses the famous atom-splitting experiments in Berlin, and it is understood found them to be much like some of the hair-splitting experiments now going on in New York.

SOME of our big corporations are getting such large income tax refunds nowadays that Wall Street is hopeful they may be able to cut a million.

In London -:- By O. O. McIntyre

Visit to Billingsgate
LONDON, Aug. 18.—Every writer has in his lexicon the phrase, "a flood of Billingsgate," to unloose in describing picturesque moments when the air turns blue. This morning I strolled through Billingsgate market in the hope of getting an earful of choice invectives.

It was a disappointment. A couple of New York taxi-cab drivers in a verbal clinic offer far more variety and sulphuric cadence. Billingsgate is a trenchant with fish-mongers and fish-baiters, who wear old leather helmets surmounting dwarfed pagodas. But there was no cursing.

The helmets are all the same, carrying heavy fish crates on their heads. They begin with a m o d e s t load, gradually increasing them and when necks "get set," as the saying goes, they can balance a weight of 250 pounds.

Disparagements of the district are not so oracular as obligatory. More than a thousand tons of fish pour into Billingsgate daily and at first the odor is suffocating but soon the sense of smell becomes atrophied and there is no discomfort. In fact it becomes a ripe tang, like the scent of pine.

A visitor to Billingsgate wanders through countless rows of dead fish and as a brighter mind so accurately observes: Nothing can look so dead as a fish. All about were prostrate lines of cod, the haddock, plaice, herrings with red eyes, green whistled and flabby white belted monstrosities from all over.

Every morning at five a sort of school bell rings and the market pops open. The army of hotel and restaurant buyers, fish merchants and housewives swarm in—prodding, examining and comparing. Hundreds of cats growl the district and are driven away by special guards.

The shabby Billingsgate wharf is one of the oldest spots of the town. It is where London began and where the first merchant gathered. The name of Billingsgate came from Belin, once King of Britons, who came away with a convict, Billingsgate, as a simile for loose tongues was a libel. I have heard rowdier talk at the Ritz.

Londons speak of their town or write of it in capitals as The City. In expressing civic zeal they are pronounced Babbitts. In England no rarely have of such enterprising and flourishing cities as Liverpool, Manchester, etc. The national spirit was long ago expressed by Dr. Johnson with: "When a man is tired of London, he is tired of life for there is in London all that can afford."

So, returning to The City from Billingsgate before 9 a. m., I was privileged to peek into that famous room in Downing Street, known to Fleet Streeters as The Invisible Voice of the Empire. Theoretically it is only here, the throne speaks. Officially it is occupied by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and is the last appeal of all British subjects. It is chillingly formal, maroon colored and extraordinarily solemn. Four fire places in velvet marble slightly relieve the stiffness—but not much. It would not lend itself to rope skipping.

Left handed traffic here makes Americans dare like ladders out of hot stone plate to skip guards for a few days but once you get the dash of it things are not so bad. After backing and filling this morning, I reached a sorry little by an eye-lashed and chirped to a chin-strapped bobby: "I made it!" He looked blank so I repeated with a foolish grin: "I made it!" Again it did not register so in confusion I switched to: "A bit foggy today." He seemed to think me barmy and I began to feel the creep of a mounting blush. Maybe some day I'll learn to keep my trap shut.

There is ever something along London streets that have been darkly stained "Ye Olde Coder Swamp." Piercing the clutter of traffic I saw through a set of swinging doors for the first time in a lot these many years. An ancient, bald, old maid named Nina, a hair-dresser, was talking to a refreshment taward and we talked of Attleboro, Mass., where I live.

A dinner at a private home near Hyde Park tonight was utterly spoiled by the presence of one of those superior owl-eyed butlers floating solemnly around. A man's direct needs: Scampering butlers.

Incident
There was a lonely woman in a cottage. Day by day Alone she walked her garden round to pass the time away. Alone she brewed her cup of tea. At 9 o'clock at night Alone she walked from room to room to lock the windows tight.

She heard the neighbors laughing, but she never turned to see. Nor raised her head nor took a step to share their revelry. Her hair was thin and silvered and her face was lined with care. And only little children ever found a welcome there.

For them she fashioned cookies to resemble plump bears And sugar daisies and walnut cakes and other sweet affairs. And every little boy or girl who passed her threshold o'er Could eat her stock of goodies till they couldn't swallow more.

She paid no heed to grow-ups, and the neighbors wondered why. Alone she chose to keep her house; alone she chose to die. The men folk thought her crazy, and the women often stood And wondered who had wronged her, but the children thought her good.

We never learned her story. All alone one night she died And when the children missed her, men were called to break inside. They found her lying on the floor, her voice forever stilled, And in the room the cookie jar, which she had just refilled.

Americans Seek Chance to Work, Not Mere Doles

By Merryle Stanley Rukeyser

ONE OF THE TEN CHILDREN of a destitute couple in Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island, died of starvation, and shortly thereafter the unemployed father received offers of 35 jobs.

The heart of the American people is still tender and sympathetic, but mere good will and the spirit of charity are not enough to deal with millions of family heads who are similarly unemployed.

MORE THAN MERE SYMPATHY IS REQUIRED. Likewise, the well-intentioned announcement by the executive director of the Association of Community Chests and Councils that it will be actively busy to take care of the burden of relief next winter is likewise of key.

It is not enough to give succor to the industrial casualties as they fall by the wayside.

The larger problem of economic and political statesmanship is to seek to stop the economic war of attrition.

The prolongation of the depression, with the unjust incidence of its burdens, constitutes a fundamental challenge to the intelligence of men.

The basic question is whether modern folk are capable of managing their affairs.

The breakdown of prosperity springs from no calamitous visitation nor from any negligardness of nature.

CHILDREN AND THEIR PARENTS ARE UNDERNOURISHED AMIDST PLENTY.

MARKETS ARE GLUTTED WITH UNSALABLE COMMODITIES WHILE HUNGRY PERSONS STARVE.

Until a sensible readjustment has been accomplished, charity will, of course, be needed in individual cases.

Organized charity must be especially alert during the coming third winter of widespread unemployment.

But the responsibility of leadership goes deeper. The essential job is to seek to deal with the causes of continued depression, rather than with the inevitable effects.

Until recently, the deflation was perhaps the necessary price which society had to pay for its economic sins and excesses during the earlier speculative boom.

But at length the mistakes have been thoroughly liquidated, and further deflation can have only a destructive influence.

Mere passive wondering and waiting will not check the momentum of declining markets, which spell suffering and distress for millions of our citizens.

THERE IS POINT IN SENATOR JAMES COUZENS' DEMAND THAT PRESIDENT HOOVER CALL CONGRESS IN SPECIAL SESSION NOT LATER THAN OCTOBER 1, SO THAT IT MAY AUTHORIZE REMEDIAL MEASURES.

INSTEAD OF EMULATING THE DANGEROUS OLD WORLD EXPERIMENT WITH THE DOLE, CONGRESS OUGHT INSTEAD TO AUTHORIZE A HUGE PROSPERITY LOAN FOR SOCIAL RECONSTRUCTION AND WIDESPREAD DEVELOPMENT OF ESSENTIAL PUBLIC WORKS.

The program must be large enough in conception to prove a decisive factor in turning the scales of business.

Leading scientific economists and social workers advocate spending up public works in time of business depression as a means of stabilizing the economic cycle.

The federal government ought really to be fully prepared with detailed construction plans for emergency use.

The success of the tonic, of course, depends on the sympathetic administration of the program by capable executive officers.

A sufficiently large program would reduce millions of unemployed from unproductive idleness.

By this very token, it would raise the buying power of the public, and accordingly set in motion forces making for normal business, especially if accompanied by a skillful central banking policy of credit expansion.

It would represent a gallant effort on the part of management in the large to shape the course of events.

It would be an attempt to substitute human control through wise exercise of the will for oriental fatalism and passive resignation.

The country has not hesitated to spend billions for warfare. WHY SHOULD IT BE AFRAID TO APPROPRIATE A FEW BILLIONS FOR LARGE NATIONAL IMPROVEMENT AND PUBLIC WELFARE?

The suggested "moral equivalent for war" would lift men from despair, and turn their eyes again toward solid progress and development.

It is ridiculous to assume that no work remains to be done in the world.

What is needed is a new and energizing viewpoint. THE RESPONSIBILITY IS WITH THE PRESIDENT AND WITH CONGRESS.

The regular session of the national legislature will, of course, come TOO LATE for ameliorating conditions this coming winter.
